Pictures 2025 aims to generate a beneficial full picture of different gastrointestinal diagnostic and treatment possibilities by bringing together all those involved to share their experience and ideas in educational meetings.

Digestive endoscopy is the cornerstone of the diagnosis and treatment of gastrointestinal diseases; successful digestive endoscopy requires radiologists, surgeons, oncologists, biologists and pathologists to work together as a tight team. An ongoing, well-coordinated interaction and consultation between those involved results in a highly effective exchange of information and viewpoints. This multidisciplinary approach is essential for the optimal achievement of diagnostic and therapeutic targets. The purpose of Pictures 2025 is to facilitate this crucial approach.

Appropriate prescribing and high-quality endoscopy are essential elements of our diagnostic and therapeutic pathways. At the same time, the choice of high-cost techniques as well as expensive and highly specific devices requires constant updating. Financial sustainability and the impact on the environment are other crucial elements in the management of high-quality endoscopy.

Therefore, each procedure to date should be carefully evaluated and fully integrated into treatment pathways, considering all the perspectives of each specialist in charge.

In short, we believe Pictures 2025 provides a very special opportunity for all clinical and nursing staff involved in the management of gastrointestinal diseases to interact and exchange information and viewpoints so as to maximise the benefit of each person's experience for the good of the whole team.
